FACT SHEET

Investment Characteristics as at 30 April 2012

*Total Emerging Markets exposure is comprised of EM securities settling in both USD and EM currencies

*Front End includes all securities that are investment grade and have a duration less than 1 year

Portfolio Strategy

- Plan to position portfolios defensively with a preference for income over price appreciation, as risk premiums are fairly or richly priced relative to our outlook
- Continue to prefer the longer end of the curve as the RBA moves to a neutral stance.
- Concentrate on the 5-10 year portion of yield curves which offer the best potential for price appreciation given the suppression of yields on shorter maturities.
- Emphasise Government Guaranteed bonds which provide liquidity as well as high quality yields above pure government bonds.
- Retain holdings of well capitalised Australian financial institutions that still offer value but emphasise issues that are higher up in the capital structure.
- Underweight semi-government bonds as this asset class continues to project low demand from overseas investors.
- Continue to own high quality Australian RMBS which continue to demonstrate strong fundamentals and self-liquidating characteristics.
- Plan to retain exposure to select corporate and quasi-sovereign bonds in countries with strong initial conditions and high quality balance sheets such as Brazil, Mexico and Russia.
